Plaintiff,	)
	)
v.	)	MEMORANDUM
	)	AND ORDER
NORFOLK REGIONAL CENTER,	)
et al.,	)
Defendants.	)

This matter is before the court on Defendants’ Motion to Stay Discovery (filing no. 53) and Plaintiff’s Motion to Compel (filing no. 49), Motion to Take Deposition (filing no. 51), and Motions for Default Judgment (filing nos. 56, 57 and 60). The court will address each Motion in turn.

I. Defendants’ Motion to Stay Discovery

Defendants ask the court to stay further discovery in this matter because they have filed a Motion for Summary Judgment that raises the defense of qualified immunity. (See Filing Nos. 53 and 65.) Qualified immunity is “an immunity from suit rather than a mere defense to liability.” Hunter v. Bryant, 502 U.S. 224, 227 (1991); Mitchell v. Forsyth, 472 U.S. 511, 526 (1985). The doctrine of qualified immunity is designed to protect state actors from monetary damages and the costs associated with litigation, including discovery. Harlow v. Fitzgerald, 457 U.S. 800, 817–818 (1982). Thus, where qualified immunity is asserted as a defense, it is within the discretion of the court to stay discovery until the issue of qualified immunity is resolved. See Ballard v. Heineman, 548 F.3d 1132, 1136–37 (8th Cir. 2008).

In some cases where a defendant has filed a summary judgment motion based on qualified immunity, courts may allow limited discovery on the issue of qualified immunity. See Lovelace v. Delo, 47 F.3d 286, 287 (8th Cir. 2008). However, in order to support a request for limited discovery on the issue of qualified immunity, Plaintiff must indicate that he “cannot present facts essential to justify [his] opposition” to Defendants’ Summary Judgment Motion. Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(d); see also Ballard, 548 F.3d at 1137.

In this case, Plaintiff has not filed a brief opposing Defendants’ Motion to Stay. (See Docket Sheet.) Moreover, the other documents in the record do not show that Plaintiff cannot present facts essential to justify his opposition to Defendants’ Motion for Summary Judgment. Thus, the court will grant Defendants’ Motion to Stay.

II. Plaintiff’s Motion to Compel and Motion to Take Deposition

Because the court has stayed discovery in this matter, Plaintiff’s Motion to Compel (filing no. 49) and Motion to Take Deposition (filing no. 51) are denied.

III. Plaintiff’s Motions for Default Judgment

Plaintiff has filed three Motions for Default Judgment that, when liberally construed, argue that Plaintiff is entitled to default judgment because he was never served with Defendants’ Amended Answer. (See Filing Nos. 56, 57 and 60.) This argument is without merit. Defendants attached a copy of their Amended Answer to their Motion to Amend Answer filed on August 21, 2012. (Filing No. 42-1.) The court granted this motion and Defendants filed their Amended Answer on August 28, 2012. (See Filing Nos. 44 and 45.) Plaintiff’s Motions for Default Judgment are denied.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that:

1. Defendants’ Motion to Stay Discovery (filing no. 53) is granted.

2. Plaintiff's Motion to Compel (filing no. 49) and Motion to Take Deposition (filing no. 51) are denied without prejudice to reassertion after the court rules on the pending Motion for Summary Judgment.

3. Plaintiff's Motions for Default Judgment (filing nos. 56, 57 and 60) are denied.

DATED this 16th day of November, 2012.

BY THE COURT:

Richard G. Kopf

Senior United States District Judge
